Gas and Hotel Bills Costing State Heavily

AUSTIN, Jan. 29.—The state owns 2465 motor vehicles. It spent $1,057,867 last year on traveling expenses, not counting wear and tear on its vehicles or purchase of new ones.

Wanderlust of state employees is costing Texas a fortune.

The State Board of Control says the state owns 500 passenger cars, 103 station wagons, 522 pickups, 13 buses, 169 motorcycles and 1098 trucks. Most of the trucks are for highway work.

Many Use Own Cars.

The $122,408 that the state paid out for oil and gasoline for its own cars last year was insignificant compared to its allowance to state employees for use of their own cars.

The state paid out $492,441 at the rate of 5 cents a mile to employees who used their own cars. Most of the state traveling was done on the highways, as only $46,852 went for railroad fares and bus fares together.

It cost the state $202,403 to feed its wandering employees, and its allowance for meals is low. Employees are limited to $3.60 a day for meals and hotel room together.

Hotel Bill $178,601.

The hotel bill for the state was $178,601. That is significant, because the state is overflowing its present office buildings and having to rent space in almost every office building in Austin.

It is having to pay so much in office building rent that a move has been started to build a new state office building.

Yet the state last year paid only $58,159 for office rent, compared to $178,601 in hotel bills.

Miscellaneous items of $15,182 completed the state's $1,057,867 traveling bill for last year.

Tarleton Dean Says Love Making On Campus Is Alright

Dean J. Thomas Davis of John Tarleton College doesn't agree that campus "love affairs" are bad for college students.

"I don't want love affairs banished from our campuses," Dean Davis told Tarleton students in assembly recently. "In fact, it seems to me that, in most cases, love for a man or a maid results in finer action—in college, as well as out."

"Most noble deeds done by man are prompted by the love—or the expectancy of love—of a woman, and I would be the last person to deny that stimulus to college youth."

Students loudly applauded the Dean's opinion.

Sen. Connally Wants Profits Of War Removed

Most wars are brought on through the influence of those who hope to make money out of them is the belief of Senator Tom Connally of Texas. He thinks that the best way to prevent wars is to take the profit out of them.

The following concerning the Senator's plan to make war unprofitable was released February 1st under a Washington, D. C. date line:

"Take the Profit out of War" is the aim of legislation introduced by Senator Tom Connally today in Congress. Through taxation, the Connally measure drafts industry and wealth and effectively prevents war-time profiteering. Should the United States become engaged in war, increased tax rates and reduced exemptions for individuals would automatically become effective. Personal exemptions would be lowered to $800 and $1,600 for single and married persons, respectively, and the rate

The slogan of the American Legion is "In Peace As In War We Serve."

Colquitt Williams Has Good Year At Rising Star Store

The following concerning the business success of Colquitt Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams of Comanche, is from last week's Rising Star Record:

Colquitt Williams, popular manager of the local branch of Higginbotham Bros. & Co., returned Thursday night from the annual meeting of stockholders of the company held in Comanche last Thursday. While being quite modest Colquitt admitted under cross examination that the company enjoyed a splendid year throughout their system, sales having shown an increase of over $300,000. From another source we learned that Mr. Williams and his capable force had made an excellent showing with the local store and was really due a pat on the back. Mr. Williams, speaking further stated that the company was looking to the new year with a great deal of optimism and had bought an enormous stock of new goods, which are now beginning to arrive. As an after thought he added that most of the new goods were bought before the recent advances in prices which would place the store in a very advantageous position to offer attractive values to their customers.

COMANCHE COUNTY PEOPLE RESPOND TO EASTERN FLOOD SUFFERERS APPEAL FOR AID

Uncle George Luker Dies At His Home Near Proctor Jan. 29

Uncle George W. Luker, 92, one of the oldest men in Comanche County and one of the few surviving Confederate Veterans, died at the home of his son, C. F. Luker in the Graham Chapel Community, Friday, January 29, following an illness.

Funeral services were held at the residence Saturday afternoon with Rev. D. A. Chisholm, pastor of the Central Methodist Church of Brownwood, assisted by Rev. H. J. Sanders of the Comanche Circuit, officiating. Burial was in the Luker Cemetery.

The song services included a duet, "Daddy Has Gone" and a special song, "I'll Live On," composed by his son, B. F. Luker.

It was exactly sixty-one years previous to the day of his death when Mr. Luker first moved to the Graham Chapel community in January, 1876. He continued to live in that community until 1900 when he bought what is now the Walter Barrett Ranch on Mercer Creek where he continued to live until the death of his wife September 17, 1918. For the past few years he has been with his son, C. F. Luker.

Mr. Luker was born in Choctaw County, Alabama October 22, 1844. At the age of 18 he enlisted in the Confederate Army and served throughout the war. After his discharge, he returned to Alabama and was married there January 13, 1867. To them were born eight children, B. F. and C. F. Luker of Proctor, J. T. Luker of Comanche, Mrs. J. W. Easley of De Leon, Mrs. Ella Williams of Cisco, G. W. Luker of Brownfield, Mrs. Frank Easley of Eldorado, Oklahoma, and Mrs. T. A. Tucker, deceased. All surviving children were present for the funeral. Surviving also are 36 grandchildren, 63 great-grandchildren, and a great-great-granddaughter, Geney Taylor of Spur.

Mr. Luker was a successful farmer and ranchman and acquired considerable holdings.

Options Are Being Signed On Land For Experiment Station

Prospects are that all land needed for the proposed sandy land farm experiment station between May and Rising Star will be under option by the end of the week, according to The Brownwood Bulletin.

County Agent C. W. Lehmberg and Chester Harrison, secretary of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, conferred with Frank Robertson and Cecil Shults of Rising Star, and J. H. Buzbee and M. Evatt of May about the options at a meeting in May Monday afternoon.

Two property owners having land wanted for the station live in other parts of the state and difficulty in contacting them has delayed completions of the options.

Established of the station, to be located in Comanche, Erath, Eastland, Brown, or Callahan Counties, to be operated under direction of A. & M. College, was authorized by the Legislature in the last regular session. The present Legislature will be asked to appropriate funds for the station.

More than $300.00 have been raised in Comanche for the Eastern flood victims according to E. E. Anthony, local Disaster Chairman for the Red Cross. The exact amount up to noon Thursday was $302.29. All Comanche contributions were from individuals and firms with the following exceptions, Comanche Baptist Church, $50.00; Newburg Baptist Church, $11.00; Highway 36 Road Crew, $39.00; K. of P. Lodge, $25.00.

The government has taken over many functions which the church in early days sponsored. A local minister stated Sunday. Education was begun in America by the churches. The church schools for the lower grades are now practically a thing of the past and while we have many church colleges and universities, the University of Texas with its nearly 9,000 pupils has nearly as great an enrollment as the combined church schools. There are more Methodist students in the University of Texas than there are in S. M. U. and more Baptist than there are in Baylor.

Most charity work in early Texas was done by the churches. Now the Relief Office, the Commissioners' Court, the Community Chest and other civic organizations have taken the lead in this work.

Some of the churches created a pension fund for their aged ministers. Now the government is giving all aged needy a pension.

The church still is in the lead in caring for orphan children, but the State has several orphanages, one of the largest being at Corsicana.

The church and the State by the provisions of the law must remain separate, but you can't legislate out the influence of the Church. As more and more men with the benevolent spirit of Christ in their hearts enter the service of the government, the more the State is going to do for humanity.

Realizing the value of a great leader, our State University recently employed D. X. Bible of the University of Nebraska as Athletic Director at a salary of $15,000 per year. Bible is said not only to be a great football coach, but one of the ablest leaders of youth in America. Incidentally, he is closely connected with the church, being a leading Baptist layman and a Sunday School teacher.

A health expert says that laughter will cure indigestion, but the trouble with most of us is that when our stomach hurts we do not feel like laughing.

The season for rabbit drives is nearing. These drives have been made an occasion of social enjoyment in this county and sportsmen assist farmers in destroying thousands of these pests every year. Of course, this not being an election year, the number of town hunters like poll tax receipts, will be a little short this year.

School Honor Rolls are not a new thing if we are to judge from the following item taken from the Williamson County Sun of January 26, 1882 which reads: "The following young gentlemen students of Southwestern University were perfect in every recitation and were not absent for roll call during December: J. M. Barcus, W. J. Barcus and L. D. Borden. The first two became great preachers and Mr. Borden was for a number of years teacher of Chemistry in the Denton Teachers College. He later became associated with the State Department of Education and was director of Rural Schools at the time of his death several years ago."

Governor O. M. Roberts, known as the "Old Alcide" advocated a pay as you go policy, says the Georgetown Sun. That is a mighty sound doctrine for person, county, state and nation to practice, except where investments are involved. Sam Jones once said there are three D's to fear—dirt, debt and the devil.

The arrest recently of an A. & M. graduate in Dallas on an extortion charge brings out the truth of the following quotation: "There is much in education. To be learned out side of books. Sometimes college graduates are disappointing crooks."

Says The Colorado Record, "Old McDonald had, has, or may have, a farm and a home, but if we continue to pile up taxes on it, he won't have long."

A move is on foot in Texas to have 12 grades instead of eleven in our public schools. Texas is one of the few states which does not already have 12 grades. The plan calls for eight years in the grade school and four in the high school.

The court house clock has been out of order lately, causing a great deal of trouble for those of us who are not able to afford watches. Before going on a strike in sympathy with the General Motors boys, the county time piece ran somewhat behind time. We noticed that some of the boys went to work by it from force of habit, but consulted a more accurate watch at quitting time.

It will likely be several months yet before any asphalt topping is put on any of the Comanche streets now under construction, according to Mr. Orand, WPA supervisor, who says the plan is to have all the streets ready for the topping before any of it is begun, so that a machine for spreading the asphalt may be used and the work then finished without interruption.

Representative Tolbert Patterson of this district has introduced some kind of a delinquent tax bill, just what its provisions are, and daily papers did not introduce a bill proposing taxes for five State property taxes for five years and to all the counties to use the funds in anyway they see fit.

We had the pleasure of attending a basketball tournament in the new Sidney Gymnasium last Saturday night. The games were a great treat for most of the crowd, but many were there who were not interested so much in the game as they were in the privilege of talking to their neighbors. The gymnasium is furnishing them with a worthwhile social center and is an asset to the community.

Rattlesnake killing and canning has become a profitable business since a farmer on the edge of the Florida everglades introduced the white, glistening meat to a hesitant public a few years ago. Started as a fad, the meat is now in demand in many markets. Don't be surprised if rattlesnake meat, in a few years, replaces chicken salad, tuna fish and other popular "snack" fillers.

Some people criticize girls for chewing gum in public, but just think how much worse it would be if they were all chewing tobacco.

The difference between a politician and a statesman, said J. F. Clarke, is a politician thinks of the next election and a statesman thinks of the next generation.

Some one has said there would not be so much gossip if there were not so many good listeners. Nothing so discourages the tattler as inattention.

Just because we do not agree with another person's views and ideas, we should not look upon them as an enemy, says an exchange, his idea might be as good as ours. Not after you have explained it to him. If a man won't agree with you, boycott him, ostracize him. What right has a man to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness who has not sense enough to see and think your way? Do not even feel sorry for the ignorant fellow.

"Another Woman Hater Capitulates" is the heading suggested by J. R. Eanes for the write up of Kinnie Sullivan's wedding which appears in this issue. Just what our Bachelor Postmaster means by "another" is not quite made clear unless he thinks it is going to become a Post Office fad. Capitulates, according to Webster, means "to surrender under terms." Just what terms Father had to lay down before he was accepted by his young bride has not been made clear. From observation it does not appear that Sullivan ever was exactly a woman hater and judging from the beauty of the young bride, one might be persuaded to believe that it sometimes pays to wait.

"Eye has not seen, ear hath not heard, neither has it entered into the heart of man to conceive the glory which the Lord has prepared for them that love Him and keep His commandments."

The editor at the pearly gate. His face looked worn and old; He meekly asked the man of fate For admission to the fold.

"What have you done," asked Peter. "To ask admission here?" "I ran a weekly paper Down there for many a year."

Some years the total has run less than 100 bales. In 1925 the crop was 405 bales, according to J. D. Holmes, manager of Planters Gin here.

ANONYMOUS LETTER SAYS SMALL BOYS MAY GET HURT

Recently in the mail directed to The Comanche Chief, was an anonymous letter, warning small boys against window-peeping. Enclosed in the letter was money to pay for publication.

The letter: "Will you please print in the next issue of your paper a warning to some little boys who may get in some serious trouble if not warned. You may say that some complaint has been given about some small boys peeping in windows in several parts of town and some time may be hurt thinking that they are there for other reasons, when they are only having a little fun."

"Just word this to suit yourself but be sure and have it in this next issue of the Chief as it may be the cause of these mischievous children getting hurt if not warned about it."

"Thanks."

SIPE SPRINGS FFA NEWS

(Wayne Hardwick, Reporter)
The New Year brought some few changes in our Future Farmer Chapter. We lost two members and gained two.

The Sipe Springs Future Farmers basketball team entered the District F. F. A. basketball tournament at Sidney gymnasium January 13 and 19. Our first game was with De Leon, which we won easily, with a score of 23 to 7. The second game was with Comanche, which resulted in a score of 18 to 19 in favor of Comanche. We were accompanied by our coach, E. L. Curb, and our advisor, Mr. Vandergriff.

Since mid-term the chapter has been studying Parliamentary Procedure, preparing for the Chapter Conducting Contest. The following boys took part in the contest held in Comanche Friday night, Jan. 29th. Wayne Hardwick acted as president; Gayle Leonard, secretary; G. T. Leonard, treasurer; Alonzo Yancy, reporter; Wayne Gregory, farm watchdog; Harry Brewer, first conductor; Paul Hill, first candidate; Thomas Green, second candidate; Mr. Vandergriff, adviser.

The judges decided on Comyn, first place; Gustine, second; Sidney, third; De Leon, fourth; Sipe Springs, fifth. As this was our first time to enter a contest of any kind, we hope to do better next time. After the contest we were given a treat by Mr. Vandergriff, a trip to the show, which we enjoyed. We were accompanied by Mr. Brown.

On Feb. 1st, the Sipe Springs F. F. A. Chapter opened their regular chapter meeting with the regular opening ceremony. The minutes were read and approved. The chapter decided to enter several Area contests, including the Junior Chapter contests to be held at Gustine Feb. 26th. The meeting was closed with the regular closing ceremony.

All outdoor work has been handicapped by bad weather. Our terracing team has several farms to run terrace lines on as soon as the weather will permit.

Texas high school boys will compete in the fourth annual state vocational Future Farmer meat identification and judging contest to be held in Fort Worth Saturday, March 13.

Each contestant will identify retail cuts of meat, name wholesale cuts from which each was taken, and place beef cuts for quality. The winning team will represent Texas at the National Future Farmer meat identification contest at Kansas City next October. Last year the Breckenridge chapter won, represented Texas at Kansas City, placed second.

SIDNEY FFA NEWS

(By Chapter Reporter)

The Sidney Chapter of the Future Farmers of America entered the Chapter Conducting Contest held last Friday night at Comanche. The local chapter placed third with Comyn first, and Gustine second. This is the third successive year that Comyn has won the contest.

Terracing has been rather slow this year due to bad weather. The students of Vocational Agriculture of Sidney High School have run twelve thousand yards to date and expect to run as many more before the close of the year.

Many calls have been received for dehorning and vaccinating and this work will be done quickly as weather permits, according to J. B. Cooper, Chapter Advisor.

"Face The Future With A Smile"

(By Gordon Barrett)

The future must be faced, whether it is with a smile or not. To face it with a smile is best for all concerned, and yet it is a thing that is hard for us to do at all times.

Confidence in yourself, confidence in your fellowman, confidence in your country and confidence in your God, will help you face the future with a smile.

The future has always taken care of itself. It always will for those who take care of today. The happiness or woe of tomorrow depends largely on what we do today. "Whatever you sow, that shall you also reap." In a large measure at least, tomorrow is only the echo of today.

If things go wrong as the sometime will; that is only a part of the play. What are we in the world for any way, but to play the part of heroes and heroines? Crowns are but the price of crosses; and where there is no fight, there will be no victory.

I love the memory of Abraham Lincoln. I get inspiration just by looking into his manly face. He forgot defeats and fought on and on for his country until his country gave him a place in her hall of fame. Mr. Lincoln's mother, while dying, pulled her nine-year-old son down to her pale lips and kissed him once and again. Then with abating breath she whispered in his ears, "Mother is dying my little son; but she will die with this prayer on her lips: that you will live a life that will make the world cognizant of the fact that the mother who bore you suffered to suckle a man."

Many of us will never be able to bequeath to our children a large estate of material things; but if we teach them how to be real men and women and face the future with a smile, we will have but little to regret here, and less hereafter.

Take Christ as your Master, the Holy Spirit as your guide, the Bible as your chart and "face the future with a smile."

"If with pleasure you are viewing any work a man is doing, if you like him or you love him tell him now."

Don't withhold your approbation till the person makes oration and he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow.

For no matter how you shout it he won't really care about it; He won't know how many tears drops you have shed; If you think some praise is due him.

Now's the time to slip it to him. For he cannot red his tombstone when he's dead."

CONNOR'S NEW HATCHERY ONE OF THE LARGEST IN TEXAS

ALL-ELECTRIC 65,000 EGG MACHINE IS BIG BOOST TO POULTRY INDUSTRY HERE

Those who have not seen the new incubator at Connor's Comanche Hatchery, should take time off to inspect this wonderful plant, report C. P. St. Clair and Supt. J. D. Bramlette, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce who made an inspection trip of Comanche's business places this week.

The new Smith's All-Electric Machine which has just been installed is a 65,000-egg capacity and is said to be one of the largest in Texas. It was the first 1937 model shipped into Texas from the Ohio factory, according to R. S. Connor, Manager, who takes pride in showing the "big hen" to visitors. It is the largest incubator in this section of the state, Mr. Connor said, and more than twice the size of the old one it replaced.

A feature of the new incubator is that the eggs are not touched by hands from the time they are placed in the machine until they are hatched three weeks later. All work is done by electricity and the entire 65,000 eggs can be turned within 45 minutes by working an electric outside lever. Eggs are set in the incubator every Monday and Thursday and chickens are taken off every Tuesday and Friday.

It is definitely known that this incubator will produce from 5 to 10 per cent more chicks from a given number of eggs than the old type incubator, Mr. Connor said. One batch of Barred Rock eggs hatched out 91 per cent this week, according to J. T. Hardin, assistant manager who said that as a rule white eggs hatch better than brown eggs.

Pate and Hardin To Assist In Connor's Comanche Hatchery

Andrew Pate, former Deputy Sheriff and and City Marshal here, has been added to the force of Connor's Comanche Hatchery and will assist R. S. Connor and J. T. Hardin with the plant. Mr. Pate has had poultry as his hobby for years and said that he was well pleased with his new job.

Mr. Hardin has been in the poultry business every since he finished school and has been associated with Mr. Connor in the hatchery business for nearly ten years. For the last several years he has been at Comanche.

Mr. Connor, owner of the plant, who also operates a hatchery at De Leon, is one of the best informed poultry men in Texas and has been in the hatchery business almost from childhood. He makes a special study of the business and attends poultry schools and meetings in all parts of the United States.

150,000 Hens In Comanche County

With 150,000 laying hens in Comanche County, the poultry business is bringing in every week a steady income to farmers of the county. The fact that this money comes regularly makes this weekly pay check almost double in value.

A recent U. S. Agriculture census report shows that there were in Comanche County at that time, 146,254 laying hens and that these hens laid during the year 569,478 dozen eggs valued at $136,675.00. This does not include eggs used for table consumption and for setting which brings the annual value to nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

During the same year, according to the report, 226,095 young chickens were raised in Comanche County, and were sold for $133,396.00. This again does not take into consideration the number of chickens used for family consumption and retained as layers.

Hatcheries Have An Interesting History

The hatchery business most of us imagine is a new enterprise, but such is not a fact. It is one of the oldest businesses known and its history reads like a romance.

The following account of the origin of the hatchery business and of the Smith Incubator, which is the type R. S. Connor has installed in Comanche, is from The Stephenville Empire-Tribune and was given at the last meeting of the Stephenville Lions Club program in a dialogue between Rufus Higgs and Hank Demke:

The hatchery business is really one of the oldest commercial occupations in existence. It was quite common during the time of the Pharaohs in ancient Egypt and it is known that the industry flourished in China 2,000 years ago. In those days the mechanical method of hatching was an art instead of a science as it is today. It was a jealously guarded craft which was handed down from father to son.

The incubators were made of mud—sort of dome shaped and fires were built inside of them. A series of these domes was connected together by passage ways and the operators worked inside of them with the eggs. These old affairs were crude contraptions, with which to measure the temperature or humidity as we have today and the operator checked the temperature of the eggs by holding them against his eye lids.

As time went on, improvements were made in incubators. However, until the early part of this century, all incubator units were quite small and there was no such a thing as poultry industry. What birds existed belonged to the fancier and the back yard operator. The incubators were operated on farms and were truly merely competition to the old setting hen.

About 30 years ago, an Ohio physician named S. B. Smith, experimented with mammoth incubators. His early efforts were not practical. However, his labors were finally crowned with success. Along about 1916 he moved to Cleveland, Ohio, and erected in an old church what was for a long time the largest incubator in the world. After a few years of successful operation, he constructed a new building and installed therein 14 incubators, each having a capacity of approximately 94,000 eggs. This again gave Dr. Smith the largest incubator capacity in the world.

The advent of the cabinet type incubator caused the poultry industry to grow by leaps and bounds because baby chicks produced in quantities possessed the factors of convenience, safety, certainty, and economy in replenishing poultry flocks.

Atwood's Hatchery Is Getting Results

Atwood and Son, who operate their hatchery business in a plant adjoining the Jess Atwood residence in West Comanche, are getting good results this year according to Mr. Atwood who said he was expecting one of the best spring's business since he opened a hatchery here several years ago. Bud Atwood, junior member of the firm, is not only a hatchery expert, but is also a poultry man of practical experience. Several years ago he bought a small farm near Comanche on Highway No. 10 on which he now operates a White Leghorn poultry farm.

The Atwood Hatchery deals both in custom hatching and in the sale of baby chicks. Both Mr. Atwood and his son are recognized as excellent hatchery men.

Gille's Hatchery Here Is Now Open

H. J. R. Gille, veteran poultry man and tailor, opened his hatchery for the season last week at his establishment just west of his residence a block west of the Jail on Brownwood Street.

Mr. Gille's love for poultry dates from childhood and for many years he has divided his time between the tailor business and that of the hatchery. For a number of years he operated the Comanche Poultry Farm just outside the city limits here and built up one of the largest industries of the kind in the county.

Mr. Gille takes a pride in his hatchery and says that every egg turned over to him for hatching gets his most careful attention. Mr. Gille states that his incubator is in excellent condition and that last year his percentage of hatching was the best he ever had and that he is expecting even better this year.

Clean System Clear Skin

You must be free from constipation to have a good complexion. If not eliminated, the wastes of digestion produce poisons and the skin must do more than its share in helping to get rid of them. So for a clear, healthy skin, remember the importance of regularity. At the first sign of constipation, take Black-Draught—purely vegetable laxative. It has such refreshing relief, and leaves the bowels acting regular until some future disturbance interferes.
